

Giuseppe Godano

A former lecturer in International and EU law at the Universities of Rome (Tor Vergata) and Cassino, Giuseppe Godano was also Director of the International Cooperation Department in the Banking and Financial Supervision Area at Bancad'Italia. As such, he was responsible in particular for the negotiation of EU banking and financial directives, the functioning of colleges of supervisors in the multinational banking groups and the cooperation with supervisory authorities of investment firms (Consob) and insurance companies (ISVAP) for the domestic transposition of European regulations. He was also a permanent member of several international EU and G-10 Committees, as representative of Bancad'Italia, among others: EU Banking Advisory Committee, EU Groupe de Contact, Basel Committee on Banking Supervision, Joint Forum, Core Principles Liaison Group.

As a member of the Basel Committee, he performed an active role in the production of principles and supervisory standards that have become a milestone of international cooperation. He is also the author of several articles and books.